There is more effort, more steadiness, involved in a diligent attention to little duties than appears at first sight, and that because of their continual recurrence. Such heed to little things implies a ceaseless listening to the whispers of grace, a strict watchfulness against every thought, wish, word or act which can offend God or your neighbor ever so little, a constant effort to do everything as perfectly as possible. All this, however, must be done with a free, child-like spirit, without restlessness and anxiety. He does not ask a fretted, shrinking service. Give yourself to Him, trust Him, fix your eye upon Him, listen to His voice, and then go on bravely and cheerfully, never doubting for an instant that His grace will lead you in small things as well as great, and will keep you from offending His law of love.

What's Doing In Politics.

A prominent old-line Republican of Louisville, in discussing the local political situation today, made the startling statement that under the present management the Republican party in Louisville had been steadily retrograding for fifteen years, and he submitted the figures to prove his contention. He said:

Did it ever occur to you that the Republican party in Louisville is rapidly progressing downward? To illustrate, you will find in 1896 out of a total registered vote of 45,933 the Republicans registered 19,845, the Democrats 18,268 and the Independents 7,820. During the past fifteen years Louisville has increased in population more than 50,000 yet the Republican party only registered this year 12,844 votes; in other words showing a loss of 7,001. On the other hand you will find the Democrats show a gain of 4,609, while the Independents show a small increase of 665.

"In 1896 the Republicans were in power in Kentucky. Bradley was Governor and George D. Todd was Mayor of Louisville. If the Republican County Executive Committee of forty members can reduce their party vote 7,001 in fifteen years, how long would it take the new proposed committee composed of only twelve men to wipe out the remaining Republicans? In 1896 the party emblem was the Log Cabin. In 1905 it was recognized as the "Rooster's Roost." In 1909 it was changed into "A Fusion Corner."

"It would be impolite to say 'machine politics', has anything to do with the downward progressiveness of the Republican party, in Louisville. I would say I am inclined to think there has been too much 'reform' for the good of the party. To lose 7,000 Republicans and gain 665 Independents in fifteen years indicates a woeful mismanagement of the G. O. P. in Louisville. In other words it has been 'a forward movement with an O'Rear front' all these years.

The United States Senatorship Most Important.

The Democratic voters must not lose sight of the United States Senatorship. A vote under the rooster carries with it a vote for members of the Legislature, which in January will confirm the action of the democratic Primary, and send Ollie James to the Senate. So close is that body between the two parties, that Mr. James' vote may decide all the great questions that will arise during the six years of his term.

The house is Democratic, but no tariff bill can pass the Senate unless the Democrats get control, or secure enough insurgent Republicans to out-vote Taft's followers in the upper body. It is absolutely necessary that we should have there a brave, eloquent champion like Ollie James, who, through all the fierce conflict in Washington has stood for the people's rights, and who will continue to stand for them.

From the reception given Ollie James in all quarters of the State, it is plain that the people are aroused to the dangers that threaten them if the Republicans have met with the greatest favor. He is doing valiant work for the whole State ticket, and the demands for speeches from him are so great that he could not fill them all if he were to talk four times a day from now until the close of the Campaign.

Presbytery of Princeton.

The Presbytery of Princeton met with the Bethlehem church at Crider, Ky., Oct. 3, 1911, at 7:30 A. M. All the present except Rev. A. J. Thompson, who was absent on account of sickness. Rev. J. H. Miller, D. D., and Rev. M. A. Provine, D. D., of Nashville were present and rendered valuable assistance in the work and inspiration of the Presbytery. The opening address was preached by Rev. J. N. Miller, D. D., Rev. J. W. Andsborg was elected moderator and presided to the delight of everybody. Mr. Miller and Dr. Provine spoke on the Forward Movement and Dr. Provine and J. T. Smith spoke on Sabbath School work. The work of the Presbytery was well done. Princeton Collegiate Institute received special attention. The work done at this institute is of excellent quality and it is hoped that in the near future it will be made an attractive educational center for all Presbyterians in Western Kentucky and Western Tennessee, while its door will be wide open and its privileges extended to the youth of all other denominations and to all young people, giving as fine educational equipment for the practical duties of life as can be found anywhere. The preaching was fine and seemed to be enjoyed by all. The reports showed an increase in offering to everyone of the boards over last year and an increase in all offerings of over $1500. The Presbytery was splendidly entertained by the most excellent people of the Crider community. They prepared and served both the noon and evening meals on the ground. The long table groaned beneath the weight of a profusion of splendidly served eatables. The next meeting of the Presbytery will be held with the Water Valley church.

GLEN DALE

The series of meetings which has been in progress at this place for two weeks conducted by Rev. A. E. Thomas, closed Sunday night. Rev. Thomas did some excellent work in every way. Each sermon was splendid, and he can hardly be excelled as an altar worker. Many were saved as the result. Bros. Wilson, of Tolu, Uriah Terry and Duncan, were present a part of the meeting, as they had the opportunity. The attendance from the beginning was good, and much and lasting good accomplished, no doubt. May the Lord ever bless Rev. Thomas in his evangelistic field of labor.

Edgar Moore has moved back home from R. H. Moore's farm near Oak Grove.
